

Salud Wellness is a nurse-led community and public health organization serving South Los Angeles, East Los Angeles, South Central, and unincorporated Los Angeles County. We design and deliver community wellness programming, health education, and resource connection, and we convene licensed partner providers to deliver services directly at our events.

Programming runs on evenings and weekends, so hourly and shift workers can actually attend.

CORE COMPETENCIES

Community wellness events

End-to-end design and delivery of wellness festivals, resource fairs, and community activations, from venue and permits through partner recruitment and day-of operations.

Health education

Workshops in English and Spanish on prevention, perinatal wellness, emotional wellness, and youth health.

Naloxone distribution

Active enrollment in the California DHCS Naloxone Distribution Project, supplying overdose reversal medication and education at community events.

Maternal and postpartum programming

Postpartum gatherings that convene licensed perinatal providers for education, outreach, and warm referral to care.

Resource connection

Language-matched, geographically realistic referral to county programs, health plans, and community organizations.

Curriculum and workforce development

Community health curricula, training materials, and policy suites for partner agencies building peer and CHW capacity.

PAST PERFORMANCE

Mothering the Mother, The Postpartum Series No. 1

LA COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS, DISTRICT 4 · SOCIAL PROGRAM AGREEMENTS DG-04-8290 AND DG-04-8962 · SEPTEMBER 2026

Free postpartum wellness event in Santa Fe Springs, co-hosted with Calafia. Licensed providers delivered lactation and pelvic floor support alongside county and community resource tables. Of 14 mothers surveyed, 13 were attending an event like this for the first time, and 9 reported needing mental health support since giving birth. Featured in the statewide newsletter of Postpartum Support International's California chapter.

DIFFERENTIATORS

Scheduled around working families

Programming is held on evenings and weekends rather than business hours, and we track attendance against day and time. Weekday programming systematically excludes hourly and shift workers.

Built in English and Spanish

Materials, outreach, and delivery are developed in both languages from the start rather than translated afterward.

We reach families who don't come to clinics

Programming happens in parks, schools, churches, and community centers, designed with childcare and transit in mind.

Nurse-led and rooted in public health

Our founder is a registered nurse with more than a decade of public health practice, including communicable disease work, field-based partner services, and community outreach, and two PubMed-indexed publications.

We complement, not duplicate

We bring existing providers to the table instead of standing in for them, and families leave connected to programs that already exist.

We document what happens

Attendance, ZIP-level reach, and participant feedback are collected at every event and reported to funders with receipts and narrative.
